WE WILL BE UTILIZING A KISS AND RIDE STYLE DROP OFF. PARENTS ARE ASKED TO REMAIN IN THE CAR AND CAMP STAFF WILL ASSIST CAMPERS WITH GETTING TO AND SETTLING INTO THEIR CABINS.*PHONE

- One of the major benefits that children receive from residential summer camp is an increase in independence
- We feel that phone calls between parents and children can interfere in this development of self-reliance. Campers may not use the phone. Exceptions may be made in case of emergency. Please review the procedures for sending email and mail to campers.
- If you would like reassurance about how your child is doing, we would be happy to check with his or her counselors and let you know. Campers are not permitted to bring cell phones to camp.

E-MAIL FOR CAMPERS

- Parents are encouraged to provide envelopes, stationary, postcards and postage so that you can hear from your child during their stay at camp.
- Children love to receive packages at camp. Parents may leave letters and ONE package with camp staff during check-in. Due to the shortened sessions and slow mail, we strongly recommend that parents do not attempt to send mail or packages to camp. Individually wrapped snacks are allowed.
- You may send emails to your camper via Bunk1.com. More information about this service is available on the website. This service also allows you to see photos of your child at camp.

PHOTOS

Our camp photographer will take many daily photos of our campers. The photos are available to view on bunk1.com. Please use your bunk1 account information to access the photos and to save your favorites. Photos are uploaded overnight and new albums will be posted in the morning. Rainy weather may impact our internet access and delay the posting of photos. Every effort is made to upload photos daily and promptly. Some campers do not enjoy having their photo taken. We will do our best to capture some moments of each camp day without interrupting the fun.
